Manitoba's total population was estimated at 1,174,645 persons as of January 1, 2005, up 1,481 persons from the October 1, 2004 estimate. Population growth continues on an annual basis, with Manitoba' s increase since January 1, 2004 estimated at 9,683 persons, or 0.83%. Manitoba' s annual increase of 0.83% is the best since 1986 (0.87%). A large portion of Manitoba' s estimated population gain of 9,683 persons during 2004 was the result of immigration (7,421 persons).

We recorded a net loss of 1,138 persons from other provinces through interprovincial migration in 2004, a difference of 1,906 persons from the net loss of 3,044 persons in 2003. In 2004, Manitoba gained population on a net basis chiefly from Ontario (298), Quebec (182), and Nova Scotia (178), while most of the losses were to Alberta (-1,264), British Columbia (-688) and the Northwest Territories (-72).

Interprovincial migration is generally offset to some degree by other types of population movement (international migration, Canadian citizens returning from abroad, non-permanent residents and Canadians temporarily abroad). When these other forms of population movement were combined with interprovincial migration, Manitoba recorded an overall net migration gain of 6,025 persons in 2004. This is almost double 2003' s value of 3,245 persons. This annual inflow is an improvement of 349 persons over the closest annual inflow since 1972 of 5,676 persons in 1982.

Net international migration for 2004 was 6,132 persons, up from 5,239 persons in 2003. This improvement is due to the increase in immigration that went from 6,492 persons in 2003 to 7,421 persons in 2004.

Manitoba's total population was estimated at 1,176,132 persons as of April 1, 2005, up 1,487 persons from the January 1, 2005 estimate. Population growth continues on an annual basis, with Manitoba's increase since April 1, 2004 estimated at 8,630 persons, or 0.74%. Manitoba's annual increase of 0.74% is the best since 1986 (0.86%). A large portion of Manitoba's estimated population gain of 1,487 persons during the first quarter of 2005 was the result of immigration (1,662 persons).

We recorded a net loss of 841 persons from other provinces through interprovincial migration in the first quarter of 2005, a difference of 1,013 persons from the net gain of 172 persons in the first quarter of 2004. In the first quarter of 2005, Manitoba gained population on a net basis chiefly from Nunavut (70), Newfoundland (58) and Yukon Territory (19), while most of the losses were to Alberta (-415), British Columbia (-391) and Ontario (-169).

Interprovincial migration is generally offset to some degree by other types of population movement (international migration, Canadian citizens returning from abroad, non-permanent residents and Canadians temporarily abroad). When these other forms of population movement were combined with interprovincial migration, Manitoba recorded an overall net migration gain of 625 persons in the first quarter of 2005.

Net international migration for the first quarter of 2005 was 1,456 persons, up from 1,341 persons in the first quarter of 2004. This improvement is due to the increase in immigration that went from 1,530 persons in the first quarter of 2004 to 1,662 persons in the first quarter of 2005.

Manitoba's total population was estimated at 1,177,556 persons as of July 1, 2005, up 1,154 persons from the April 1, 2005 estimate. Population growth continues on an annual basis, with Manitoba's increase since July 1, 2004 estimated at 7,327 persons, or 0.63%. A large portion of Manitoba's estimated population gain of 2,597 persons during the first half of 2005 was the result of immigration (4,014 persons).

We recorded a net loss of 3,174 persons from other provinces through interprovincial migration in the first half of 2005, a difference of 2,412 persons from the net loss of 762 persons in the first half of 2004. In the first half of 2005, Manitoba gained population on a net basis chiefly from Saskatchewan (70), Nunavut (40) and Yukon Territory (35), while most of the losses were to Alberta (-1,732), British Columbia (-1,068) and Ontario (-398).

Interprovincial migration is generally offset to some degree by other types of population movement (international migration, Canadian citizens returning from abroad, non-permanent residents and Canadians temporarily abroad). When these other forms of population movement were combined with interprovincial migration, Manitoba recorded an overall net migration gain of 845 persons in the first half of 2005.

Net international migration for the first half of 2005 was 3,544 persons, up from 3,299 persons in the first half of 2004. This improvement is due to the increase in immigration that went from 3,764 persons in the first half of 2004 to 4,014 persons in the first half of 2005.

It should be noted that Statistics Canada has released revised components of population estimates for Canada, the Provinces and Territories. The revised estimates cover the time period from third quarter 2002 onward. This MBS report incorporates all revisions.

Table 6 presents the differences between the current population statistics contained in this report and those previously published by Statistics Canada for Table 1.

Manitoba's total population was estimated at 1,178,109 persons as of October 1, 2005, up 553 persons from the July 1, 2005 estimate. Population growth continues on an annual basis, with Manitoba's increase since October 1, 2004 estimated at 4,751 persons, or 0.40%. A large portion of Manitoba's estimated population gain of 3,150 persons during the first three quarters of 2005 was the result of immigration (6,523 persons).

We recorded a net loss of 6,211 persons from other provinces through interprovincial migration in the first three quarters of 2005, a difference of 5,295 persons from the net loss of 916 persons in the first three quarters of 2004. In the first three quarters of 2005, Manitoba gained population on a net basis chiefly from Newfoundland (59), Yukon Territory (39) and the Northwest Territories (15), while most of the losses were to Alberta (-3,488), British Columbia (-1,789) and Ontario (-686).

Interprovincial migration is generally offset to some degree by other types of population movement (international migration, Canadian citizens returning from abroad, non-permanent residents and Canadians temporarily abroad). When these other forms of population movement were combined with interprovincial migration, Manitoba recorded an overall net migration gain of 19 persons in the first three quarters of 2005.

Net international migration for the first three quarters of 2005 was 5,471 persons, up from 4,784 persons in the first three quarters of 2004. This improvement is due to the increase in immigration that went from 5,826 persons in the first three quarters of 2004 to 6,523 persons in the first three quarters of 2005.
